

FARMERS MARKET MENU

— discontinued until further notice —

Due to staffing issues on our bread team, we have had to make the very difficult decision to discontinue farmers markets for the foreseeable future. Our last market was Sunday, September 9th.

At this time, our bread and pastries are only available for purchase at our retail bakery located at 40 4th Street in Point Reyes Station.

We will miss our customers at the farmers markets dearly, and hope we will be able to make it back, but at this stage we are unable to comment on timing of a potential return to the markets. We encourage you to visit us at our lovely bakery in Point Reyes Station, and to sign up for our email list and follow us on Instagram for updates on other options to buy our products.
